Sage Goes Tobacco-Free

The Sage Colleges is proud to announce that Sage is now a tobacco-free community effective January 1, 2012. This policy covers cigarettes and tobacco products of any kind and applies to all members of the Sage community including students, faculty, staff, tenants, and administrators, as well as visitors to the Sage campuses.

Details about the tobacco-free policy, enforcement, and smoking cessation programs are available at www.sage.edu/about/tobacco_free

DCUR

The Kathleen A. Donnelly Center for Undergraduate Research is on the 2nd floor of the RSC Campus Library. With Dr. David A. Salomon as its Director, the Center can help students with any aspect of their research, from planning to writing, from posters to presentations, from proposals to publications. Please stop by!

Russell Sage College students enjoy the annual Troy Victorian Stroll in December 2011.

As many as 5 million Kindle Fires were sold by Amazon.com in December 2011. Barnes and Noble has sold "millions" of Nooks.

Who am I?

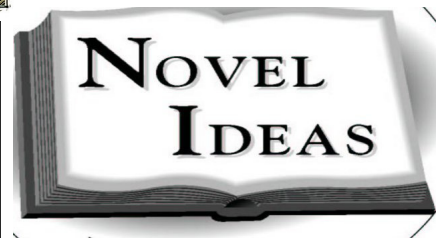

A kiss from me, Emil stole, when he robbed the fair lamp's glow. I always loved him, you can see. And in his arms, I died beneath the mulberry tree. Who am I?

Turn to page 4 for answer.

Congratulations to Angela Whyland who will present her paper "Fire and Ice: The Women of the Icelandic Sagas" at the National Conference on Undergraduate Research in Ogden, Utah, this March. Whyland is one of only three students who will attend the conference from Russell Sage. Prof. O'Connor-Salomon served as advisor on the project.

Medusa

Medusa is Russell Sage's campus-wide creative writing and poetry club. We meet each week to discuss both student and faculty produced work, as well as the poetry of published authors. Our meetings take place in the Hare Room of the library, which affords us the opportunity to explore the works of many poets, and to further our understanding of poetry. Under the guidance of Dr. Kelley, we learn to critique our work and share it with other creative writers in a relaxed and encouraging environment, which culminates in our week-long celebration of poetry in the Spring, Poetry Blitz.

The Nobel Prize in Literature for 2011 was awarded to Swedish poet Tomas Tranströmer "because, through his condensed, translucent images, he gives us fresh access to reality."

A new film version of The Great Gatsby, starring Leonardo DiCaprio, Carey Mulligan, and Tobey Maguire, is set to open next Christmas. The film is directed by Baz Luhrmann.

The Darren Aronofsky film Pi will be shown on Tuesday, March 14, at 7:00pm in Schact Fine Arts Center ArtWing B. The film is being shown in conjunction with the Literature of Mathematics/Mathematics of Literature course being taught this semester by Dr. Salomon and Dr. Lawrence. The film is free.

This April Baghdad's Iraqi Theatre Company will create a version of Romeo and Juliet for a new generation, infused with Iraq's rich traditions of poetry, music and ritual. This iconic play finds fresh purchase in the soil of contemporary Iraq, a country where sectarian strife between Sunni and Shia, ignited and fuelled from outside, has left the population exhausted by a cycle of violence and revenge.

English and Modern Languages Alumnae—Contact Us!

Did you know that 1.12 billion people speak Mandarin Chinese? English is a distant second with 480 million speakers.

We want to know what and how you're doing. Send email to Dr. Salomon at salomd@sage.edu.

SLAP

The Sage Language Acquisition Program is offering study in Italian and French at any level. Go to www.sage.edu/slap for more information, or contact Prof. David Salomon

Kolik jazyků znáš, tolikrát jsi člověkem.

You live a new life for every new language you speak.
If you know only one language, you live only once.

Dave Eggers, The McSweeney's founder, has given a new meaning to the idea of reading in the bathroom. His text is printed on a shower curtain for people to read while getting clean. It costs $65.

Facebook Group

RSC English Alums should join the Facebook group: "Russell Sage College Alums."

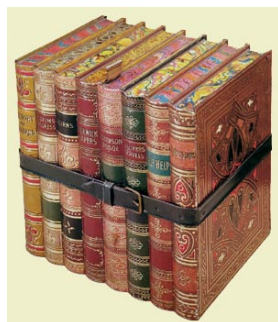

Internships can be a vital part of your education and can often lead to a permanent job upon graduation.

Study Abroad!

There are some truly incredible opportunities for study abroad. Take advantage of them while you can. Your undergraduate years are the ideal time to go abroad, earn credit, and have an eye-opening cultural and intellectual experience. And you can study just about anywhere in the world. It's not as expensive as you might think. Have a look at the Sage Study Abroad homepage at www.sage.edu/current/studyabroad/

Or visit with Sabrina McGinty, the Director of Cultural Enrichment and Diversity (mcgins@sage.edu).

Carriage House Notes was (unless otherwise noted) written and designed by Prof. David A. Salomon to whom any questions or comments should be directed. Contact him at 518-244-3118 or salomd@sage.edu.

Writing Studio

Don't forget the Writing Studio is available for any kind of writing assistance. Located on the second floor of Hart Hall, the Studio has posted hours and tutor schedules outside the office. The Writing Studio will reopen right after classes resume. To make an appointment, call 244-6737 or stop by. Visit them on the web at www.sage.edu/writingstudio. There is also a wonderful Moodle Writing Studio Resources Page. Contact Prof. O'Connor-Salomon, the Director, at oconnk1@sage.edu for access.
